ALLIED BOYS TO TRADE CONFERENCE IN CITY FOR TODAY

England, France, Belgium and Italy Represented in Party of 80 Touring American Trade Centers.

SEVERAL WOMEN AMONG VISITORS

Are to Visit Chemical and Steel Plants During Afternoon—Will Depart Tonight for Kansas City.

Commissioners sent to the recent International Trade Conference in Atlantic City by Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium are spending today in St. Louis, having arrived at 8 a. m. in a special train from Cincinnati. They will depart for Kansas City at 11 p. m.

The party numbers 80, including the commissioners, who are leaders of industry and commerce in their respective countries, their clerks and secretaries, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which is conducting their 3500-mile tour through 15 states, and members of British, Italian, French and Belgian embassy staffs in Washington.

Rain Shortens Ride.
Rain, which increased in volume after the start of an automobile trip about the city from Union and Lindell boulevards, caused that trip to be abbreviated, after the West End residence district had been visited. The route had been fixed to include the new industrial district in Northwest St. Louis and the downtown wholesale district.

As the automobiles approached Washington University 50 students clambered onto the running boards, and as the machines proceeded through the university grounds the students named each building to the visitors and gave them information about the university.

The commissioners, after seeing Forest Park, were taken to the Missouri Athletic Association, where rooms had been assigned to each mission, so they could greet St. Louis manufacturers and business men who desired to know the reconstruction needs of Europe and how, if they desire, they can establish trade relations.

The visitors were prepared, not only to give information as to needs, but to place orders for American manufactured articles and raw materials.

Lunch at M. A. A.
The remainder of the day's program was a luncheon by the Chamber of Commerce at the Missouri Athletic Association, an afternoon tour of industries, particularly the steel and chemical plants, and a dinner at the St. Louis Club at 6:30 p. m. Eugene Schneider, president of the great steel works at Creusot, president of the French delegation, Sir Arthur Shirley Bann, member of Parliament, England, and Ferdinand Hankar, director of the National Bank of Belgium, Belgium, and Fernando Quartieri, president of the Italian Corporation for Chemical Industries, Italy. The St. Louis committee in charge of the entertainment of the commission is headed by Clarence H. Howard, president of the Commonwealth Steel Co.

New Materials Needed.
The visitors designated to speak at the luncheon were Hankar, Quartieri, W. Waddington of the French delegation, and Balle John King, a Scotch ironmaster, one of the unique figures of the party, who comes from a long line of covananting ancestors. The speakers for the dinner tonight are Sir Arthur Bann (Lady Bann is accompanying him), Schneider, Giorgio Mylius, representing Italy, and Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, who is a vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

At the luncheon Hankar said St. Louis was well-known to Belgians as a place where world's expositions were held, presidents nominated, and where factories manufacture some of the most efficient mechanics' tools in the world. He said St. Louis is also known in Belgium as a place where raw materials for the factories of Belgium may be had.

The proper reconstruction of Europe, Hankar said, would depend chiefly on whether America will extend liberal credits in raw materials. He said there need be no fear of illness or Bolshevism in Belgium, for the people are eager to work and sweat out sufficient raw materials for the factories now almost ready to start operations.

Virtually all the commissioners express one thought in giving the purpose of their visit. They desire the commercial credit of the United States until their respective countries can reorganize their industries, destroyed or interrupted by the business of war-making. Balle King said of England: "We can make it all right in the steel in."

EDITOR OF GERMAN LANGUAGE NEWSPAPER IS ARRESTED HERE

Department of Justice Agents Say Chicagoan Advocated Overthrow of Government in Speech.

Frederick W. Friedman, 33 years old, a Scotch-Irish editor of German language newspaper in Chicago, was arrested last night by operatives of the Department of Justice following a speech at Apollo Hall, 3809 North Ninth street, in which he is said to have advocated the overthrow of the Government. He is said to have admitted that he is the organizer for the German branch of the Communist party. He spoke in German.

Edgar Lacher, 1219 Sidney street, an employee of the Brown Shoe Co., secretary of the meeting, was also arrested. Both are being held on technical charges.

Some of the statements Friedman is alleged to have made are that "now is the time for the Communist party to organize to overthrow the existing Government," that "strikes and riots would help in this although wage increases were of no value to the workmen because as soon as wages were increased prices went up."

A Department of Justice agent said that he warned Friedman to be careful after he had made the statement that the American dollar was worth about 15 cents and later compared it to an iron washer. Friedman is said to have told the audience that the operative was "hired by the capitalists to break up the meeting."

The operative said he asked those in the hall who were citizens to raise their hands and seven hands were raised.

JUDGE FARIS WARNS LAWYERS TO BE IN COURT ON TIME

Dismisses Motion Three Minutes After Opening Court When Attorney Fails to Appear.

Judge C. E. Faris, the new judge in the St. Louis District Court, was on the bench promptly at 10 a. m. today, and at 10:03 he dismissed a motion in a bankruptcy case because the lawyer who was to argue it had not appeared. When the lawyer arrived a few minutes later, the judge told him his motion had been disposed of.

"I dismissed it because you were not here," he said. "I am punctual, and I expect members of the bar to be so."

The lawyer apologized, and Judge Faris agreed to reinstate the motion, and set the hearing for next Saturday.

Six Women at Federal Building "Send Out" With Basket.

Six women stenographers employed in Government departments on the third floor of the Federal Building have organized a "Low Cost of Lunching Club." One of their number goes out with a basket and buys food at stores and restaurants. It is eaten in a room adjoining the District Courtroom.

The stenographers each day invite one Federal official to dine with them as their guest. Their purchase plan, they say, saves enough to more than pay for the feeding of the goat.

STATE SUPT. BAKER DENIES REPORTS OF TEACHER SHORTAGE

Tells 3000 Instructors in Convention at Coliseum There Were Only 64 Vacancies in State Last Week.

UNION OPPONENT GETS APPLAUSE

15 Minutes Is Allowed Each Debater and Sentiment Apparently Is Against Affiliation With A. F. of L.

Samuel A. Baker, State Superintendent of Schools, speaking this morning before the first general session of the Missouri State Teachers' Association, in the Coliseum, declared that Missouri had made a start in the increasing of teachers' salaries, with an increase of 11 to 42 per cent in the last year; and denied reports of a great shortage of teachers in this State, saying that instead of a supposed number of several thousand vacancies in schools throughout the State, there were last week just 64 such vacancies.

More than 3000 teachers, including those from the St. Louis schools east of Grand avenue, were at this morning's session. The St. Louis teachers from schools west of Grand avenue will attend the convention tomorrow and all the St. Louis teachers will have an opportunity to attend on Saturday, the closing day. Pupils in schools east of Grand avenue had a holiday today, and those west of Grand will have a holiday tomorrow.

A debate on the unionizing of teachers was made a part of the morning's program, by special arrangement. Fifteen minutes each was given to L. W. Sampson of Washington, first vice president and organizer of the American Federation of Teachers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, who spoke for unionization; and W. W. Martin of the Cape Girardeau Normal School, who spoke against it.

Martin got virtually all the applause in this discussion. He stated that teachers represented the people as a whole, and should not step aside from this position to align themselves with any special group. He pointed out that teachers were in a position to purchase goods and services, and other improvements, which he said had been brought about by the union. He got close attention, but almost no applause.

Baker Is Optimistic.
Supt. Baker proclaimed himself an optimist as to the educational outlook. He cited figures to show that Missouri's percentage of illiteracy has decreased steadily in the last 30 years, and that the State stands among the upper one-third of the states having the lowest percentage of illiteracy. He said Missouri surpassed four New England and Pennsylvania in percentage of children, between 5 and 18, who are enrolled in school. Missouri, he added, prepares a larger per cent of high school graduates for college than does the State of New York.

As to salaries and vacancies, Supt. Baker said: "The average salary paid to the teachers in Missouri in 1917-1918 was $55 a month, based on an eight months' term. The salary of 1918-1919 was $66 a month. The average salary for 1919-1920, according to reports now in my office, is $76 a month. The per cent of increase over that of last year is about 12. The per cent of increase in the rural schools alone, figures based on reports from 61 counties making the report is 11. Out of 549 towns reporting the salaries in grade schools 405 show an increase. The increase is about the same as that in rural schools, 11 per cent. Out of 576 reporting salaries of high school teachers, 495 show an increase, the per cent of increase being about 13. Not much of an increase for teachers you will note, but a start."

"There has been a great deal said about vacancies in the schools of Missouri, and I have been surprised that men of ordinary judgment, who have stood fairly well in the profession in this State, have stood upon platforms in meetings like this, and made the statement that there were 4000 vacancies, or 3000 vacancies in the schools of this State. Reports received from 97 counties within the last week show that there are 64 vacancies in the State at present. In a number of instances, districts reported as not having a teacher are districts that have preferred, under the law, to transport their children to some town school and pay the tuition."

Supt. Baker discussed the action of teachers trained in the State Teachers' Colleges, in going to other states, and said they should not be blamed for doing this when it was to their advantage, and that the State, as a matter of consistency, should not object to teachers coming from other states to fill positions in Missouri. If it is desired to keep Missouri, it is desired to keep Missouri.

First Lieutenant and Two Sergeants Charged With Forgery in Connection With Government Checks.

THEFT OF 58 CHECKS REPORTED AUG. 16

49 of Them, Made Out to Discharged Marines and Aggregating $1098, Were Cashed at St. Louis Bank.

First Lieut. Lester C. McLaughlin and First Sergeants Edward J. Hermann and J. J. Sheridan of the staff of the Marine recruiting office in the Fullerton building, were arrested by United States Secret Service agents today on charges of forgery in altering obligations of the United States.

The accusation is made in connection with an investigation of the theft of 58 checks which were reported stolen from a desk in the Marine recruiting office Aug. 16 last. These checks were payable to Marines who were discharged from the regular service and placed on the reserve list. Forty-nine of the checks, aggregating $1098.83, were cashed.

Lieutenant Reported Theft.
Lieut. McLaughlin told the police of the theft of checks Aug. 17 and reported it to the local secret service office a day later. The investigation has been under way since then.

Chief Operative Sloan and two of his men went to the recruiting office and were shown through it by McLaughlin, Hermann and Sheridan, who gave them the impression that they were the janitors or other employees of the building. These employees were questioned and the secret service men were convinced they knew nothing of the checks.

Meanwhile all but nine of the checks were cashed by a St. Louis bank, the name of which has not been disclosed. The canceled checks went to the Treasury Department in Washington.

Inside Job Suspected.
Sloan, who had begun to suspect an inside job, had the Lieutenant and the two Sergeants each make up for him a list of the names of the men to whom the checks were payable. These lists were sent to Washington for comparison with the index cards on the checks which had been cashed.

A few days ago Sloan received a report from Washington that handwriting experts had decided that the signatures on the backs of the checks were written by the same three hands that wrote the lists of names.

Lieut. McLaughlin meanwhile had been transferred to Chicago. After the handwriting experts' report was received it was arranged that he be transferred back to St. Louis. He came here today and was arrested shortly after his arrival.

Hermann is the only one of the three who served in France. Government agents today said officials of the bank had identified him as the man who cashed the checks.

PLAN TO KEEP WAR LID ON UNTIL NATIONAL PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—An effort to prevent the lifting of war-time prohibition before the constitution amendment becomes effective is to be made by "some dry" leaders in Congress, but doubt is expressed whether the necessary legislation can be enacted before the end of the special session last this month.

Representative Handall, prohibitionist, California, said today that, when the House took up the bill to extend the food control act for six months after the proclamation of peace, he would offer an amendment continuing the war-time liquor act until Jan. 16, 1920, when the country "goes dry" by constitutional amendment.

Opponents of such a move and some of the "drys" admitted that such a proposal would be subject to defeat on parliamentary grounds only the manufacture and importation of intoxicants.

MINERS TO MOVE TODAY TO KNOCK OUT INJUNCTION

Hearing Up Again Saturday, When Government Will Ask for Order to Lewis to Call Off Strike.

SITUATION UNCHANGED SHORTAGE IN FUEL

Points in Iowa, Nebraska and California Feel Lack of Coal and Have Asked for Relief.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—Attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America some time today will file a motion in Federal court for dissolution of the restraining order to prevent officials of the union from issuing instructions to the striking miners, it was learned today. The officials were in conference this morning with their attorneys, and it is understood, have completed the writing of the motion.

Such motions, in accordance with a court rule, must be filed two days in advance of the arguments. The hearing of the Government's petition for a temporary restraining order has been set for Saturday, and today is the last day for filing motions in the case.

Government and Miners Preparing for Next Move in Court.
By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The dispute between the nation's bituminous coal mine operators and union miners, which has resulted in virtual cessation of production throughout the country, today remains deadlocked, with leaders of both producers and miners agreed that the refusal of the Department of Justice to withdraw the injunction proceedings against officers of the United Mine Workers of America has swept away hope of immediate settlement of the strike.

As the approximately 425,000 miners remain idle for the sixth day, further steps have been taken to reduce the menace of a threatened coal shortage, already imminent in some sections.

Six passenger trains have been removed from service on railroads in the Middle West, and Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield has authorized the use of full authority over prices, distribution and shipment of all fuel.

To the pleas of several Nebraska towns, Iowa, and California have added requests for relieving the threatened shortage. The Mayor of Topeka, Kan., telegraphed B. J. Rowe, Middle West Coal Director at Chicago, that city was without a ton of coal in its market and "hundreds of families are in immediate need."

Preparations have been made for reopening the mines at McArthur, Ok., with 450 men, mostly farmers. General conditions surrounding the strike today remain virtually unchanged.

From West Virginia and Colorado have come the only reports of increased production since the walk-out became effective. Thirty-one union mines are said to be producing in West Virginia, and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. reports 64 per cent of its normal force at work.

Operation at full capacity at the Madrid (N. M.) coal mines, which it is to be made by "some dry" leaders in Congress, but doubt is expressed whether the necessary legislation can be enacted before the end of the special session last this month.

Railroads of the Northwest region have a supply of 2,282,286 tons of coal, adequate for 37 days. L. S. Carr, chairman of the purchasing committee for railroads of that region, announced today. Chicago's reserve supply of fuel is estimated at enough for 30 days.

GOVERNMENT TO ASK FOR ORDER TO CALL OFF STRIKE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Miners' operators and Government officials are awaiting outcome of court action at Indianapolis on the restraining order which was made returnable Saturday. Counsel for the miners will go into court and ask that all proceedings be dismissed while the Government will request that the temporary injunction be continued and that a mandatory order be issued to John L. Lewis, acting president of the Miners' organization, to call off the strike.

Denial of Samuel Gompers' statement that representatives of the operators walked out of the meeting called by Secretary Wilson for the purpose of trying to settle the coal strike is made by the Executive Committee of the bituminous coal operators of the central competitive field. The statement continues: "It is not true that the miners are not permitted by the operators to work full time. The operators have no control over the demand for coal. They can merely stand ready to produce and furnish it when the public demand requires it."

$600,000,000 FOR HARD ROADS

EXTREMISTS WHO WOULD KILL TREATY PREVENTING VOTE

Need of Compromise Not Realized, Though All Factions Want to Hasten Definite Action.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1919.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The true state of affairs with respect to a vote on the peace treaty now can be revealed. Both Republicans and Democrats want to hasten the ratification of the treaty, but every effort to bring about an agreement to set a date for a vote has failed because as a matter of fact the spirit of compromise has not yet been recognized as absolutely necessary by the extremists, who think they can yet defeat the whole treaty. Briefly, the Republican management offered to set a date on which the treaty could be "finally disposed of." By that they meant final action on the ratifying resolution which contains the reservations proposed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The Democrats objected to the use of the word "final" because they believed it would prevent them from offering another ratifying resolution if the necessary one-third to defeat the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's resolution.

Procedure Like This.
So the procedure is going to be something like this:
The Republicans will press for a vote on reservations which will command a majority and thus become part of the ratifying resolution. Then the vote on that resolution which requires two-thirds will be defeated because the Democrats consider many of the reservations to be equivalent to amendments and as requiring resubmission of the treaty to foreign governments and necessitating prolonged negotiation. The Republicans naturally would seek to attach the blame for the defeat of the treaty then on the Democrats, but the latter are ready to explain to the country that the ratifying resolution with the extreme and thus become tantamount to a destruction of the treaty and they felt it incumbent on themselves to refuse to approve such a resolution in order that the Senate might vote on another kind of resolution in which reservations not so extreme would be inserted.

The big question is this: When the first ratifying resolution fails to get a two-thirds vote because of the action of at least 33 members of the Senate who are Democrats, is the treaty "finally disposed of," as the phrase is used in the proposal of Senator Lodge to end debate? Is the Senate able to bring up other ratifying resolutions containing less drastic reservations, or must the President notify the other nations of the world that America has not ratified the treaty and that a separate peace with Germany must be negotiated?

The Democrats would promptly ask Vice President Marshall for a

SENATE REJECTS PROPOSAL FOR REFERENDUM ON WAR

Gore Amendment Beaten, 67 to 16—Knox Offers Reservation to Release U. S. From League Obligations.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The peace treaty amendment presented by Senator Gore, Democrat of Oklahoma, to make an advisory popular vote mandatory before any declaration of war under the league of nations, was rejected today by the Senate. The vote was 67 to 16. Republican Leader Lodge and other leading Republicans voting against the amendment.

Senator Spencer of Missouri voted against the Gore amendment. Senator Reed voted for it.

Knox Offers Reservation.
When the treaty was taken up today Senator Knox, Republican of Pennsylvania, introduced a blank reservation to release the United States from any obligation to be bound by decisions or recommendations of the league of nations. Senators Knox said the purpose was to make this country "a consulting member of the league."

The reservation would give the United States "the fullest and most complete liberty of action" in regard to league affairs, with the "sole right to determine its own relations and duties and course of action."

It also would claim an unconditional right of withdrawal and would make ratification of the treaty dependent on affirmative acceptance of the reservation by the other Powers within 60 days.

Senator Myers, Democrat of Montana, denied reports that he would support the Gore amendment for a referendum.

Senator La Follette resumed the attack begun yesterday on President Wilson's course in negotiating the treaty.

It was learned this morning that Senator Hitchcock, leader of the administration forces, has called a conference of Democratic Senators for tonight at which a decision will be reached on the plan of campaign in the final stages of the fight.

Hitchcock, it was announced at the White House, will see the President in a day or so. At the Capitol the impression prevailed that the Democratic leader would visit the White House prior to the conference.

He unquestionably would rule that the treaty is before the Senate for further action but an appeal from his decision could be taken to the Senate as a whole and it would require only a majority vote to overthrow his ruling and kill the treaty. The Republicans could muster such a vote, but it is quite another question whether they would thus wish to take responsibility not merely for killing the treaty but preventing the Senate from having another opportunity to vote on a compromise proposal. Probably if the Senate would sustain the Vice President and rule that the Senate can still act on other ratifying resolutions, the Democrats would try to obtain a record vote on a resolution which embodies no reservations whatsoever. This could not get the necessary two-thirds, as at least 33 Republicans are adamant in their intention to refuse to ratify the treaty without reservation or qualification of any sort. They feel the country wants some reservations to protect America on moot points so this evening. He will report fully to President Wilson upon the situation to date and the prospects and receive the advice of the President as to means of combating the Republican attack. The President will indicate what reservations are acceptable to him. Admittedly the Lodge force now hold the offensive and passage of the reservations proposed by the foreign relations committee is generally accepted as inevitable. Democratic friends of the treaty this morning could see no hope of any other outcome of the balloting on reservations. They expressed adherence to the reported plan of Senator Hitchcock to vote against the final ratification of the treaty if the "killing" reservations are attached.

Then will arise the question of reconsideration—a bridge which Hitchcock said he will not try to cross till he gets to it. It is the hope of the Democrats that the treaty with the Lodge reservations having been voted down, the matter will be reopened and a purely interpretative resolution adopted.

The Senate today found more amendments before it than on yesterday.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, had ready two new amendments which would provide that the United States decline to be bound by articles 10 and 11 of the pact.

The only vote taken yesterday was on the proposal of Senator La Follette, to strike out the treaty's labor provisions, and it was rejected, 47 to 34. Senator Spencer of Missouri voted against it and Senator Reed, for it.

Some influential Democratic Senators have not endorsed the suggestion of Democratic leader Hitchcock that the treaty be voted down if proposed reservations are adopted.

Sensors Walsh of Montana and Robinson, Arkansas, Democrats, replying to Senator La Follette, declared his criticism of President Wilson was unjustified. They cited precedents to show that the President had the whole duty of negotiating a treaty without securing advice from the Senate.

as to avoid misunderstandings in the future concerning America's obligations. Many Democrats recognize that position on the part of their political opponents as valid and are ready therefore to enter into an agreement on set of reservations which are mutually acceptable. If, after disposing of the first two ratifying resolutions—the one offered by Senator Lodge embodying the extreme Republican position and the other offered by Senator Hitchcock as a matter of record on behalf of the President's position—there should come before the Senate a ratifying resolution containing reservations along the lines suggested by Charles Evans Hughes or William Howard Taft and if such a resolution is offered by one of the so-called "moderate reservationists" among the Republicans, it would be a comparatively simple matter to get the necessary two-thirds vote to ratify the treaty.

But so long as the extreme Republicans by parliamentary maneuver or otherwise can bring about the defeat of the peace treaty—which they think would be a good thing for America—just so long will it be impossible for the Democrats to offer a compromise resolution.

Can Change Situation.

Once the two sides have seen that on the question of giving the Senate an opportunity to vote on the ratifying resolutions of majority and minority is something that should have nothing to do with the merits of the respective resolutions but is merely a right to each side to get a record vote—the Senate itself being the judge of what it wishes passed or defeated—then there will be a change in the situation. The Democrats will have their caucus by tomorrow when a definite line of policy will be pressed.

The Republicans, too, are conferring as to whether they should allow the treaty to be killed by parliamentary maneuver, explaining to the country that the Democrats were responsible, or whether they should obtain a definite agreement with the Democrats on reservations in advance of the vote on the ratifying resolution, a course that is being urged by some of the mild reservationists.

But the whole thing is now coming to a climax and within another fortnight the country will know just which members of the Senate are sincerely anxious for some league of nations and the approval of the peace treaty and those that are as interested in determining that America's signature shall be withheld from the whole thing for an indefinite period.

STRIKE SITUATION UNCHANGED; COAL SHORTAGE GROWS

requires and is willing to accept it. "It is not true that the miners received an advance of 20 cents per ton in 1914. It is not true that the operators raised the price of coal 15 per cent in 1914. On the contrary, the price was reduced."

"It is not true that for the last several years the miners have averaged only 160 to 180 working days a year. It is a fact that virtually every bit of coal mined in the country has to pay roll a substantial number of men who deliberately lay off from one to three days a week when they have an opportunity to work."

"Mr. Gompers states that the miners are demanding shorter working hours so that their work may be made regular instead of intermittent. How is it possible to effect such regulation? How can mines be worked when no cars are available? How can mines be worked on days when mine sidings and railroad yards are blocked with loaded cars which the public does not need and will not buy?"

The operators say they stand ready to present facts to a proper tribunal at any time.

Both Sides Prepare for Action in Court Saturday.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—The arrival of C. B. Ames, Assistant Attorney-General, in charge of the Government's injunction proceedings against the striking coal miners of the country, is expected to usher in the next developments in the strike situation here.

William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, yesterday suggested as means of settling the strike of coal miners, that the Government arrange for a conference of miners and operators and "command them to reach an agreement."

"The real way to settle the strike is for the Government to bring all its moral and legal influence toward bringing the operators and miners together and command them to reach an agreement," Green's statement said. "This is the practical way to get the mines started."

Green's plan, however, would not include calling off the strike pending settlement of the wage agreement, but was in line with statements made by acting President John L. Lewis of the miners, in which willingness of the miners to open negotiations "without reservations" was expressed.

Want More Pay but "Don't Insist on Six-Hour Day."

By the Associated Press.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Reports received by operators today indicate that there are now 44 mines working in organized or partly organized districts throughout the State which were closed early in the strike. Six more mines will start operation in Preston County, W. Va., and Garrett County, Md., Monday next, operators say.

In the thoroughly organized districts, mine union officials say the strikers are standing firm. W. N. Vanderpool, president of the local union of Mine Workers at South Carbon, in the heart of the Kanawha region, said that the striking miners demanded an increase in wages to meet the high cost of living, but "did not insist on the six-hour day."

Coal operators in the unionized Kanawha fields, whose contracts with the United Mine Workers have been abrogated by the general strike order, probably will bring damage suits against the union, it is announced here by representatives of the mine owners.

The strike is costing the operators in the Paint Creek fields approximately $100,000 a day, including the losses on coal sales, D. C. Kennedy, secretary of the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association, asserts.

Iowa Governor Criticizes Government Course in Strike.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Kan., Nov. 6.—A tribunal to have considered the controversy between the coal miners and the operators, not forgetting the interests of the public, would have been far better than a drive against the miners, Gov. W. L. Harding of Iowa said here this morning.

Bismarck's Third Book to Be Issued.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 8.—A Berlin publishing company has announced that it is preparing to issue the third volume of "Bismarck's Thoughts and Reminiscences." The heirs of the Iron Chancellor had stipulated that this volume should not be published during the life of the former Emperor William. The publishers announce that they now consider this restriction invalid.

CLEMENCEAU DEMANDS THAT ONE OF MINISTERS RESIGN

Calls in Head of Invaded Regions Department and Then Asks Tardieu to Succeed Him.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Premier Clemenceau this morning summoned to his offices Albert Lebrun, the Minister of Blockade and Invaded Regions, and demanded the Minister's resignation.

The Premier afterwards received Andre Tardieu, head of the General Commission for Franco-American War Matters, and sounded him on his willingness to be M. Lebrun's successor.

Lebrun is running for election as a deputy from Muerthe and Moselle on the same ticket with Deputy Louis Marin, who cast his vote against the peace treaty on the question of ratification by the Chamber of Deputies. Clemenceau told the minister that he could not permit a member of the Clemenceau cabinet to figure on the same list with a peace treaty opponent.

GOVERNOR OF NEBRASKA SPEAKS

Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie of Nebraska, who spoke today at a luncheon of the Kiwanis and Advertising clubs at the American Annex, described the propaganda the Non-Partisan League is using in Nebraska and the plan which is being followed to combat it.

He said the league followers really believed in State Socialism and had made headway in the northern states because of a part failure of crops. In Nebraska, he said, the farmers have an organization which owns elevators and which has a seat on the grain exchange at Omaha. McKelvie is the editor of an agricultural paper.

M'ALLISTER DISCUSSES STATE DRY LAW RIGHTS

Missouri Attorney-General Does Not Believe Congressional Action Should Be Questioned.

Attorney-General McAllister of Missouri, who was in St. Louis today, was asked for an expression as to Judge Pollock's remark that the States should make up or Congress would take all their rights.

He replied that, without discussing the Judge's warning, he could only say that he did not think it proper for the State to question the right of Congress in the wartime prohibition legislation, in view of the fact that preparations are under way for a referendum on the right of the Legislature to ratify the constitutional prohibition amendment. While such action was pending, he said, it would be a difficult matter to have a test made as to the rights of Congress to exercise police power in the passage and enforcement of the wartime prohibition act.

War-time Prohibition Suit in Louisville Nov. 12.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6.—Judge Walter Evans of the Federal District Court here, on Nov. 12 will hear arguments on a suit to test the wartime prohibition act and the Volstead enforcement law. He set this date following filing of the suit late yesterday by Attorney William M. Bullitt of Louisville and Levy Mayer of Chicago, on behalf of Wright & Taylor and the Brown & Forman distilling companies of Louisville.

The defendants are United States District Attorney W. V. Gregor and Ellwood Hamilton, Collector of Internal Revenue for Kentucky.

The petition, which seeks to prevent interference with the sale of nearly 1,000,000 gallons of tax-paid whiskey owned by both companies, charges that title one of the enforcement measure, relating to the duties of the Revenue Department to prevent the manufacture and sale of whiskey, is unconstitutional, in that Congress violates the tenth amendment by exercising general police power over a subject matter not within its jurisdiction. Further, it was said the wartime prohibition act violates the fifth amendment, which provides that the Government shall not take private property without just compensation.

Bringing Better Music Into the Home

That is the mission of the Vocalion—the greater phonograph. The Vocalion is supreme in tone—and tone should be the prime consideration in the selection of any musical instrument. It was in the laboratory of the Aeolian Company, the world's largest producer of musical instruments, that men whose life work is the bettering of musical instruments conceived the Symphonic Tone Chamber. And because of this radical improvement the Vocalion is a phonograph that reproduces voice and instrument with such fidelity and purity that musicians, with ear delicately attuned, find keen satisfaction in its reproduction.

The Vocalion plays all records. But there is one record that is as perfect as the Vocalion itself. That is the Vocalion record. To hear a Vocalion record played on a Vocalion is to enjoy a musical treat.

Value is a waif which for years has been relegated to the back of the dictionary, forlorn and forgotten. Now it is being suavely presented in our best commercial circles as the "Pride of the House." Value has been the prop and principle of this institution since the doors were opened.

Value isn't Pure Wool, or Thorough Tailoring or Smart Style or Spruce Fit or Interested Service—it is all five.

Nowhere can you get such fivefold value in such complete degree as in our Stein-Bloch Smart Suits and Overcoats for the season of 1919-20—$35 to $150.

Specializing in Fashionable Apparel

Designed for Women Who Wear the Larger Sizes

WOMEN who wear sizes from 44 to 52, and who find difficulty in being correctly fitted, will be especially interested in the big assortments of Coats, Suits and Dresses that we show in the larger sizes. In these the lines and tailoring are emphasized to give women the desired straight lines that are more becoming.

Dresses in the Larger Sizes

The assortments include everything from the tailored street Dress to the stateliest afternoon and dinner models. They are in dark and rich colors as well as lighter shades.

These Dresses were created by special designers of "extra size" Dresses. The shoulders are cut differently and are in comfortable proportions. They are made long waisted with draperies cunningly contrived to create longer lines and the correct balance to the whole Dress, at the same time allowing freedom of movement.

A beautiful embroidered velour is $85
A Crepe de Chine Dress is $59.75
One of Georgette, skillfully designed, is $67.50
A handsome beaded kitten-ear sable is $150
There are serge, tricot, Poiret twill, brocade satin and broadcloth Dresses—sizes 44 to 52—priced $37.50 to $150

Suits in the Larger Sizes

The possession of a tailored Suit, when it is one that has been designed with a special knowledge of the style that you wear best, is the assurance of a smart, well-dressed appearance. The larger size Suits are designed by experts who so thoroughly understand the requirements of the mature figure, that they create Suits that fit as perfectly as though they were tailored expressly for you.

The materials are silvertone, tricot, velour and broadcloth. Some are hand embroidered, others bound with braid and others are man tailored. The skirts are made with yokes and panels in front—breaking the usual awkwardness of line. The coats are cut correctly through the shoulders and are tailored beautifully. Colors are navy, black, reindeer, Oxford, tan and the brown shades. Prices are $59.75 to $125

Coats in the Larger Sizes

Excellent selections are shown in the Coats in the large sizes. They are in styles that will fit the woman who is long waisted or short waisted. The Coats are designed for the different types of women who wear large sizes.

The THOR Pays for Itself

Here are the facts if you hire a laundress:

Laundress' wages, one day—$3.00
Her meals— .75
Soap— .25
Add for wear on clothes, say— 1.00
Cost for one day—$5.00

How the Thor Saves

If you have a laundress for both washing and ironing, you probably count on paying her for two days' work—$6.00 plus meals. Multiply the costs by four and see what you pay in a month—about $32.00.

For only $10 a month you can buy a Thor. It is soon paid for and you have a dependable servant always.

With a new Thor in your home you can have both washing and ironing done in one day. The Thor will do your washing in a hour. And you need not depend on your laundress. It's so easy to wash with a Thor that thousands of housewives are now doing their own washing who had formerly hired laundresses.

3 KILLED WHEN SECTION OF SMOKESTACK FALLS

Two Other Men Are Seriously Injured in Accident at East St. Louis Stockyards.

Three men were killed and two injured when the top section of a reinforced concrete smokestack, under construction at the Morris & Co. plant at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, toppled over at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Those killed were Philip Zerkas, 613 North Seventh street, East St. Louis, and John Westick, 3688 Cook avenue, St. Louis, who were thrown from the top of the stack, and Jerry Lively, 723 North Sixth street East St. Louis, a boiler maker, who was killed by falling debris.

Arthur Adcock of Chicago, foreman in charge of the construction of the stack, was seriously injured when thrown from the stack, and was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where it was said he probably would not recover. He was still unconscious this morning. William McLaughlin, 704 Trembley avenue, East St. Louis, suffered serious injuries when struck by falling concrete.

The stack, which had been under construction for 45 days, was 182 feet high and lacked 23 feet of being completed. Officials of the Morris company said it was to have been completed early next week. The falling of the top three lengths of the stack did considerable damage to the buildings beneath. The scaffolding at the foot of the stack was torn away and the side of an adjoining building wrecked.

Zerkas was thrown from the top into the scaffolding at the base of the stack and suffered, among other injuries, a fractured skull. Westick was hurled into the interior of the stack. Lively was working at the foot of the stack and was caught in a shower of concrete.

St. Louisan Fatally Injured by Falling Pipe
Archie Collins, Vandeventer and Chouteau avenues, St. Louis, was fatally injured at the new hoghouse of the Stockyards Company in East St. Louis at 4 p. m., yesterday by a falling pipe. Collins was carrying concrete into the forms for the erection of the building. He died at St. Mary's Hospital. The pipe was supported by a tower, 140 feet high, and was being hoisted into place when it fell 30 feet. Collins was crushed beneath it.

TWO BURGLARS, FRIGHTENED BY WOMAN, LEAP THROUGH WINDOW

Fleeing Men Take Silver Valued at $100; Six Other Robberies and Two Holdups Reported.

Seven burglaries and two holdups were reported to the police last night.

Furs valued at $1150 were reported missing from the home of Leslie Blackmore, 325 North Taylor avenue. The theft occurred between June 1, when the furs had been stored and yesterday when their absence was noted.

The family of James Hopkins, 2931 Westminster place, returning from Europe, found their home topsy-turvy from a visit by burglars. Four electric fans were missing.

Mrs. Agnes Lueders, 2107 Russell avenue, leaving her kitchen to answer a telephone ring in another part of the home at 9 p. m. frightened two burglars. They leaped through a window, taking with them $100 in silverware.

Other burglaries reported were at the tailor shop of Nathan Soule, 1241 Hodiament avenue, cloth valued at $600; drug store of John Skarr, 1248 Chouteau avenue, cigars and cigarettes, $100; and the homes of Langley Briddell, 1919 A Park avenue and Henry Schwartz, 6109 Pennsylvania avenue, $400 worth of jewelry.

Ernest David, 2703 Rutger street, and James Doyle, 1117 North Eighteenth street, were robbed in holdups. Doyle told policemen he had drunk whiskey with two men he met on Market street and had been robbed of $100. David was held up in the railroad yards by two armed men and lost $2 in tokens and $4.60.

NOTE SIGNED BY TWO DEAD MEN CAUSES WOMAN'S ARREST

Son of S. M. Reddish Who Was Murdered in Jerseyville Says Signature of Father Is Forged.

A note for $1800, bearing the names of two dead men, one of them a soldier killed in France, and the other, Stephen M. Reddish, murdered last April at Jerseyville, was presented a few days ago by Mrs. E. R. Burkett of Campaign, Ill., as a claim against the Reddish estate, and led to her arrest. It was made payable Nov. 1.

Mrs. Burkett, who is 55 years old, is held in the Jersey County Jail. She said she loaned the money five years ago to James B. Jones of Alton, and that Reddish signed the note as security. Jones was killed in France. Reddish is alleged to have been shot by his own son, Dr. Hecrae Augustus Reddish, now charged with the murder. Clarence, another son, pronounced the signature a forgery.

An Attorney Hamilton said he did not connect the note with the murder, but considered it an attempt to take advantage of the death of the two men, to swindle the heirs. Dr. Reddish and his uncle, John Mackelden, also charged with the murder, were removed today from Jerseyville to Jacksonville, where their trial is to be held Dec. 1.

BOY PLAYING TAG IS FATALLY HURT BY AUTO

Was Going Home With Sister—Dies in Doctor's Office Half Hour After Accident.

Lloyd Fahrenkamp, 9 years old, son of Mrs. Odella Fahrenkamp, a widow, 4953 Davison avenue, died in a physician's office at 4:30 p. m. yesterday, a half hour after he had been struck by an automobile driven by John W. Graf, 27, a service car chauffeur, of 4700 Beacon street, on Davison near Birch road. The boy's skull and neck were fractured.

This was the eighteenth motor vehicle fatality since Jan. 1, compared with 74 for the same period last year.

Lloyd, with his sister, Agnes, 7 years old, was returning from school when he suddenly touched his sister on the arm, cried "Tag! you're it," and darted into the street. Agnes saw the automobile approaching and called to Lloyd. He stopped and started back to the sidewalk and was struck.

Graf told policemen that had the boy continued across the street he would have been able to avoid striking him. In darting back, he said, the boy ran directly in the path of the machine.

EAST ST. LOUIS STREET CARS TO BE OPERATED WITHOUT HEAT

Conservation Measure Ordered by General Manager—Fires Only When Weather Is Severe.

The first conservation measure introduced by a public utility in this vicinity since the beginning of the coal miners' strike was put into effect today by General Manager D. E. Parsons of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway, who ordered the discontinuance of heat on the road's East St. Louis and Interurban cars. Parsons said that no heat will be furnished on the company's cars unless the weather becomes severe. He said that the road has a small reserve supply of coal at its Alton station and a 10-day supply at its East Side power house. He expressed doubt that the railroad representatives of the Regional Coal Committee would be very generous with its road, which is a competitor, in the event its supply became exhausted.

GAME WARDENS INSTRUCTED TO PREVENT MOTOR BOAT HUNTING

State Game and Fish Commissioner Birmingham Offers Bonus for First Conviction.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 6.—Tim Birmingham, State Game and Fish Commissioner, took steps yesterday to stop the hunting of ducks on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers in motor boats. He wrote a personal letter to each Deputy Game Warden in the State calling his attention to complaints received by the Commissioner urging the apprehension of all who violate the game laws.

In order to stimulate the hunt for the hunters, Birmingham offered a $15 bonus to the first Deputy who secures a conviction. Birmingham told the correspondent that his department had been receiving complaints that the law was being violated by duck hunters, but that his men are not properly equipped to apprehend them.

"We have no motor boats, and no appropriation to buy them," he said. "It is difficult to catch a man hunting ducks in a motor boat unless you also have one. We have an appropriation for rental of boats, but many of the boat owners are in sympathy with the hunters, and will neither loan nor rent boats to the department."

Birmingham said that in addition to his letter to the Deputies, he expects to spend several days of each week during the duck-hunting season, with all of the Deputies available, on the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers at points where motor boat hunting has been reported.

Roosevelt Fund Is $30,000 WITH 1500 LISTS STILL OUT

Campaign Will Close Saturday Evening—Special Appeals to Be Made to Reach $80,000 Quota.

The Roosevelt Memorial Fund has reached $30,000 and E. Lansing Ray, treasurer, has sent out a call for the return of all subscription lists by Saturday evening, when the campaign, which started Oct. 20, will close.

Subscriptions yesterday amounted to approximately $3000. There are about 1500 lists still out, and it is hoped these lists will bring the total near the St. Louis quota of $80,000.

Between now and the closing hours of the campaign special appeals will be made for generous individual subscriptions to reach the quota.

AID SOUGHT FOR NEEDY FAMILY

Mother Disabled From Accident: Two Children in Want.

Policemen are seeking food, fuel, clothing and medicine for Mrs. Sarah Meiers, 34 years old, who was found in an attic room at 1315 Franklin avenue with her two small children yesterday disabled from an accident and all three half starved and cold.

Five weeks ago the mother fell down a stairway and fractured her arm. An association has been caring for the family but recently announced the mother would have to enter a home if she wanted further assistance. This she refused to do.

GOMPERS SAYS LABOR PLANS SHORTER DAY

Tells Conference Output Cannot Be Increased by Lengthening Working Hours.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Efforts to reach a common plane on which the groups of the International Labor Conference might agree on the question of the straight eight-hour day or the 48-hour week still are in progress in the assembly. Labor delegates stand out for the eight-hour day, while other groups contend for the 48-hour week.

Samuel Gompers, unofficial representative of American labor in the conference, attempted to break the deadlock by a motion to submit the subject to a commission. His motion was voted down by the conference and the session opened today with a clean calendar.

Gompers in his first address before the conference yesterday came out for the straight eight-hour day, as compared with the 48-hour week, and served notice that in the United States the eight-hour day will be shortened if labor successfully executes its plan.

Replies to Employer Delegates.
Mr. Gompers spoke in reply to a majority report on the part of employer delegates favoring the principle of reducing hours, but stating that it could not be put in force generally at this time, owing to the need for increased production as a result of the war.

The report, submitted by D. S. MacJoribanks of Great Britain, pointed out the need for special effort "to make good the shortage of food supplies, the reconstruction of devastated areas and the replacement of machinery," and declared that the progressive increase in the cost of living "would lead to disaster unless the needs of the present situation were considered in conjunction with the aims of the labor representatives."

Denying that output could be increased over a considerable period of time by lengthening hours, Gompers characterized the American workman as the most productive worker in the world, and said industrial history proves the eight-hour day to be more productive than a 10 or 12 hour day.

Women Ready to Adjourn.
Preparatory to winding up affairs for adjournment only matters of routine occupied the attention of the International Congress of Working Women in its final session today. Completion of the permanent organization of an international association for working women and the working out of details for the operation of free employment bureaus are on the program.

During the sessions here the women went on record as favoring legislation for safeguarding mothers and babies, and for representation of women at future sessions of the international labor conference; voiced opposition to night work for both men and women except in continuous industries regarded as public necessities, and favored prohibition of the employment of women in industries using poisonous products, and the creation of free employment bureaus.

$250,000,000 Loan to Poland.

1000 WOMEN WILL SEEK MEMBERSHIPS FOR RED CROSS

86 Booths in Hotels, Office Buildings, Theaters and Stores Will Form Their Team Headquarters.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY THEIR DAYS TO WORK

Encouraging Reports From Business Houses Show Faster Progress in Campaign Here—More Trucks Put in Service.

Arrangements have been completed, and a working force enlisted, for a women's campaign the first two days of next week, in behalf of the Red Cross Third Roll Call. It was announced today that 1000 women will work from 86 booths and tables in office buildings, hotels, stores and theaters, urging all who are not wearing the Red Cross 1919 buttons to enroll as members and pay $1.

There will be special forces Sunday afternoon at the "pop" concert of the Symphony Orchestra in the coliseum, and at the Art Museum. This work will continue until the close of the general campaign on the evening of Armistice Day, next Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph W. Bray, Miss Grace Taussig and Miss Olive Simpkins, are the members of the Executive Committee, which has selected 16 captains.

Work will be begun by the women at Union Station at 8 a. m. Monday. In the office building lobbies and department stores, the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and at the hotels and theaters from 6:45 to 9 p. m.

The captains are: Mrs. Walter S. Marx, Mrs. Henry Oberschelp, Miss Louise Simpkins, Mrs. J. W. Reinhold, Mrs. John Ring, Jr., Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. L. H. Van Deusen, Jr., Miss Margaret Swift, Mrs. W. T. Donovan, Mrs. C. G. Allen, Mrs. Irene Hertz, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Miss Evelyn Stewart, Mrs. Edgar Niggeman, Mrs. Frederick B. Chamberlain and Mrs. W. H. Lee.

The workers will be stationed at the following places: Hotels: American, American Annex, Jefferson, LaClede, Majestic, Marquette, Maryland, Planters, Statler (two booths) and Warwick.

Stores: Stix, Baer & Fuller (two booths); Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney (two booths); Famous-Barr (two booths); Nungate (two booths); Woolworth's, Kresge's.

Office Buildings: Bank of Commerce, Board of Education, Boatmen's Bank, Carleton, Central National Bank, Century, Chemical, Commercial, Equitable, Federal Reserve Bank, Frisco, Fullerton, Globe-Democrat, Granite, Holland, Humboldt, International Life, La Salle, First National Bank, Merchants-Laclede, Metropolitan, Missouri Athletic Association, Odd Fellows, Pierce, Post-Dispatch, Railway Exchange (two booths), Rialto, Security, Star, Syndicate Trust, Third National Bank, Title Guaranty, Victoria, Wainwright, Wright, Dolph, Union Electric and University Club.

Public Buildings: City Hall, Municipal Courts, Federal, Main Post-office, Courthouse and Public Library.

Union Station, McKinley Station, Merchants' Exchange.

Theaters: Columbia, Empress, Grand, Loew's Garrick, Jefferson, American and Orpheum.

Cafes: Cicardi, Cafferata, Benish, Leonhardt, Busy Bee and St. Louis Luncheon.

Reports Are Encouraging. Encouraging reports from a number of large business houses, received at campaign headquarters at Broadway and Olive street today, showed further progress in the local drive. Up to noon yesterday, the St. Louis Chapter, which includes St. Louis, St. Louis County and East St. Louis, had received but 15,000 $1 memberships, while Oklahoma City reported 30,000 and Kansas City 40,500.

Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co. reported that each of its 2250 employees had subscribed for Red Cross membership, making the establishment 100 per cent. A call for 150 buttons and flags came in from the Aluminum Ore Co. yesterday after the supplies given the plant had all been distributed, and reports this morning show that this company has 2450 employees who have answered the Red Cross Roll Call.

Ten new downtown stations have been established on trucks, loaned by local concerns. Red Cross nurses and canteen workers in uniform, and "four-minute" men are assigned to each truck.

Mrs. Grace Letson Scollard of 2364 Arlington avenue, who has been an unusually successful worker in patriotic campaigns in the downtown district, will work at Eighth and Olive streets, the location she used in previous campaigns.

St. Louis Second in Recruiting. The St. Louis Marine Corps recruiting district, comprising St. Louis and nearby towns, enlisted 81 recruits during October, 60 of whom came through the local office. This is the highest record for the month of any district in the Central Division, which enlisted 452 men in all. The second district in recruiting was Chicago, with 78, of whom 62 came through the Chicago local office, Chicago being the only city with more enlistments than St. Louis.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

GOVERNOR PAROLES AUTO THIEF

Is Reward for Aid to Detectives in Recovering Stolen Cars. August Wagner of St. Louis, who pleaded guilty to stealing automobiles last February and was sentenced to serve four years in the penitentiary, was paroled yesterday by Gov. Gardner at the request of the Circuit Attorney and the police. Though Wagner admitted his connection with a gang of automobile thieves he gave valuable information which led to the arrest of other members of the gang and the recovery of a number of stolen cars which had been shipped to Illinois. He was serving his term when the Governor permitted him to leave the penitentiary to aid the police in rounding up automobile thieves last September.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A Chicago hotel owner announces that the October receipts for a cafe and grillroom were $162,000, as compared to $147,000 for June, the last month before wartime prohibition went into effect.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS DAY OF THANKSGIVING

Calls on People to Reconsecrate Themselves to Principles of Right.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Wilson yesterday set aside Thursday, Nov. 27, as Thanksgiving day in a proclamation which said the country looked forward "with confidence to the dawn of an era when the sacrifices of the nation will find recompense in a world at peace." The proclamation follows: "By the President of the United States of America: A proclamation. "The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to unite in giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which he has conferred upon our country during the 12 months that have passed. A year ago our people poured out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern task is ended and the fruits of achievement are before us, we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nation will find recompense in a world of peace.

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country they should, as they give thanks to God, reconsecrate themselves to these principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more perfect expression than to bulwark with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died.

"During the past year we have had much to make us grateful in spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war we have passed. Our harvests have been plentiful and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations. Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our guides in the path of progress and civilization.

Strives for World of Good Will. "These great blessings, vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we helped to win. No selfish purpose should lead us in becoming a participant in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our cooperation in realizing the enduring welfare of all peoples and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and good will.

Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November, next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow-countrymen, inviting them to focus on that day from their many tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God the Author of all Blessings and the Master of our Destinies."

JUDGE AUTHORIZES RAILROAD TO REJECT U. S. COMPENSATION

Federal Court Order Is Said to Throw Open Whole Issue of Government Payments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Federal Judge Carpenter yesterday entered an order authorizing the receiver for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad to refuse the $2,500,000 annual compensation offered by the Director-General of Railroads for the period of Federal control.

The order is said to throw open the whole issue of Government compensation for railroads, making it possible for the companies to oppose the settlements offered by the Government. The profits of the railroads were said to exceed the amount offered by the Director-General, whose figures were based on the profits for three years preceding Federal control.

JUSTICE IS SUED FOR $25,000

Attorney Alleges He Refused to Issue Execution in Judgment Case.

Adolph Abbey, an attorney, yesterday filed suit for $25,000 damages against Justice of the Peace George Grassmuck, alleging that he wrongfully refused to issue an execution in a rent judgment case rendered by him.

The judgment was in favor of Abbey and against O. R. Kuhn for possession of the premises at 5445 A. Easton avenue owned by the lawyer, the petition sets forth. However, when Abbey tried to enforce his judgment he could not get an execution order from Justice Grassmuck, he alleges.

FiguresCOAL SITUATION
HERE REGARDED
AS FAVORABLERegional Rail Director Says
Railroad Service in Southwest Won't Be Curtailed for 10 Days.

The fuel situation in St. Louis was regarded favorable today by railroad officials, who are directing the distribution of the coal supplies in this district as a result of the walk-out of coal miners last Friday at midnight. B. F. Bush, Regional Director of Railroads in the Southwest Region, announced that no curtailment of railroad freight or passenger service in the Southwest is contemplated for at least a week of 10 days.

Bush, in commenting on the railroad situation as reported from Chicago, where six passenger trains on roads running into the Northwest have been removed, said that the Southwest Region was in better shape than any other.

Some Locomotives Burn Oil.

"We have a good supply of coal on hand in yards and on tracks around St. Louis and through the Southwest and I have just ordered more than 100,000 tons from producing districts in the Alleghenies, where there is a surplus at present. There is every prospect that we will be able to get this coal, which will permit the release of a greater amount of the coal now on hand for general use. Another point in our favor, which will enable us to keep trains moving here, is the fact that virtually all the locomotives on our lines in the South are oil burners. There also is a possibility of Colorado coal reaching us."

Train service will not be curtailed here until necessary. However, I have ordered the discontinuance of certain work trains which were engaged on operations that can be held over for a short time without difficulty."

The Central Coal Committee at Washington yesterday extended the jurisdiction of the St. Louis Regional Coal Committee to the switching on the East Side. It was estimated by the committee that this order places about 3000 roads of coal in East St. Louis under its control. Many railroad men and dealers had been of the opinion the East St. Louis tracks would be controlled by the Federal Regional Director in the Chicago district.

Deliveries of coal to domestic consumers, including apartment houses and stores, were made by many dealers yesterday, and more coal was released for this purpose last night by the Regional Committee. Each consumer is allotted a two weeks' supply. No coal will be delivered to anyone having that much on hand.

At the request of city officials the committee released 16 cars of coal for the Waterworks, which has begun using its emergency supply of fuel. The additional coal will be held for future use.

WOMEN, SAVE $10
BY DRY CLEANING

Save five or ten dollars quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home. You can dry clean, brighten and renew children's coats, suits, caps, woollens, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves, shoes, fur neckties, ribbons, satins, lace, silk waists, draperies, rugs—everything that would be ruined by soap and water.

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or wash boiler, put in the things to be cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new. Nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles. No pressing needed. Do not attempt to dry clean without Solvite soap. This gasoline soap is the secret of all dry cleaning. A package of Solvite soap with directions for home dry cleaning costs but a few cents at any drug, grocery or department store. Dry clean out-of-doors or away from flame.—ADV.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Announcement of the decision to close Camp Merritt, New Jersey, principal receiving camp for overseas troops, is made by Secretary Baker. Hereafter troops which ordinarily would have gone to Merritt will be sent to Camp Dix, N. J.

DOUBLE DECK BUSES MAY BE USED HERE

Company Announces 188 Buses of 62-Passenger Size Have Been Ordered for St. Louis.

Routes have been announced by the Missouri Motor Bus Co., newly incorporated, for the service which it expects to begin next spring. The company has announced that 188 double-deck buses have been ordered, the first deliveries to be made by the manufacturer in April.

The first line, it is announced, will be on the Washington-Delmar route to Skinker road, the route now used by service car drivers; on Chestnut, Lawton, Grand avenue and Lindell boulevard to Union boulevard; on Grand avenue from the Water Tower to Carondelet Park, and on Jefferson avenue from Chipewa street to the new northwest industrial (General Motors) section. Other lines in contemplation would run on King's highway, out Page boulevard to Kirkwood and other western suburbs, and out the Olive Street road. The downtown lines are expected to loop around the Courthouse.

A 10-cent fare would be charged in the city. No decision has been reached as to a transfer system. A zone system of fares would probably be used in the country.

The buses are to hold 62 persons each, and no more would be taken, no stops being made to take on passengers when a bus is full. Thirty-three of the seats would be on the upper deck, and 29 on the lower. Local and express service is planned.

Ben W. Marshall, an electrical contractor, is president of the Missouri Motor Bus Co. Thomas A. Knoblock and Smith H. Cady are vice presidents; Harry E. Pretzman, secretary; Frank Martin, treasurer, and Oliver Frazier, chairman of the Board of Directors.

Other concerns now planning to enter the field of motor transportation here are the St. Louis Motor Bus Co., a subsidiary of the National Motor Bus Co., which operates the Chicago North Side lines, and the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., which operates the line on Fifth avenue and Riverside drive in New York.

A bill pending in the Board of Aldermen for the regulation of motor bus traffic is now in the hands of the committee on legislation, of which Alderman Wyrick is chairman. Amendments have been proposed which would exclude buses of the size of those ordered by the Missouri Co. and planned by the St. Louis Co. The promoters of the companies will ask that these amendments be not adopted.

ONLY ONE BANK BUYS STOCK IN HOME AND HOUSING ASSOCIATION

Only one bank, the Mercantile Trust Co., has subscribed for stock in the Home and Housing Association, which is to build model homes for workingmen. President Jackson Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce told representatives of women's organizations who met at the chamber yesterday afternoon to inquire how they could support the scheme. The banks, however, will benefit greatly from the plan, Johnson added.

The Y. W. C. A. in particular feels the need of buildings to house working girls. Many instances were cited of where business concerns want to bring girls to the city from other places, but are unable to do so because of the lack of suitable living quarters here.

Johnson said that he would lay the plan for building a working women's home before the board of trustees, but emphasized that the first need is to provide homes for many thousands of workmen and their families, work on which cannot start until a total of $1,000,000 has been subscribed.

NATIONAL BANKS SET RECORD

Comptroller Reports Only One Enforced Closing in 22 Months.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Establishing a record for immunity from failure, national banks of the United States have gone through the last 22 months with only one enforced closing, according to an announcement by John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency. The one failure reported was in 1918, no bank having been forced to suspend during the last 18 months of this calendar year. This record, Williams said, stands out as 30 times better than the average for any similar period in the 40 years' life of the present national banking system.

MONEY LENDER SUED FOR $4000

Harry Schneider of 4373 Evans avenue, yesterday filed suit for $4000 against Samuel Bronstein, a money lender in the Central National Bank Building, alleging that in June last Bronstein came into possession of and converted to his own use Liberty Bonds to that amount, which had been stolen from Schneider.

Bronstein was arrested in connection with the theft of the bonds and placed under common law bail, but has never been prosecuted on the charge.

Favors Spanish-U. S. Alliance.

MADRID, Nov. 6.—Alliances of Spain with friendly Powers to insure the avoidance of war were urged by former Premier Romanones in a speech at a banquet here last evening.

"I know the hour of alliances has sounded for Spain," the former Premier said, "but it is an hour for alliances contracted by the force of public opinion in common accord with the Government and the King. Treaties of alliances with France, Great Britain and the United States would be the surest guarantee we could have to keep out of war."

C. Wallace, the American Ambassador, has presented to Tacoma, Wash., Wallace's home town, one of the largest guns captured by the French from the Germans. It is a 150-millimeter Howitzer. The gun will be shipped as soon as arrangements can be made for its transportation.

Give a thought to Music

Packard Interpreter Piano

You do not simply see what you want, but you produce it. You have the instrument in one. The interpreter for the piano. The piano for the interpreter.

There's Pleasure in Interpretative Playing

You may be one of the countless thousands of men and women who love music, and yet lacked the opportunity of learning to play the piano manually. That should not prove a barrier to your participation in the production of genuine music.

Packard Interpreter Pianos

give you the same sweet melody that many pianists would be delighted to be able to produce by hand.

You are not dependent at any time on any member of the family. Each one becomes a factor in musical interpretation.

By disconnecting the mechanism, the Packard Interpreter may be played the same as the regular Packard Upright Piano. If there are children, or others in the home, who are being educated musically, you have practically two instruments in one.

Call at your earliest convenience to inspect and test these instruments.

Examine the Packard Interpreter carefully, and test it. Then decide its merit from your own viewpoint.

ST. LOUIS MARINE KILLS SELF AFTER QUARREL WITH WOMAN

Fired Two Shots at Her in Front of Her Home in Washington.

Louis Liebrecht, 30 years old, of 1403 Temple place, a Marine, shot and killed himself in Washington, D. C., yesterday after trying to kill Mrs. Nellie L. Binney, who had refused to become reconciled to him following a quarrel. The shooting occurred on the front doorsteps of Mrs. Binney's home.

Liebrecht is survived by a brother, Harry Liebrecht, living at 5928 Cote Brillante avenue, and a sister, Mrs. Ida Hoffmeister, 1403 Temple place, besides his brother, Otto Liebrecht, who was with him in the Marine service in Washington.

Press dispatches stated that Liebrecht, after dining with Mrs. Binney at a Chinese restaurant and talking her to a theater, accompanied her home and asked if there could be a reconciliation. When she replied negatively, he drew a revolver and fired two shots at her. She dodged beneath his arm and he then shot himself through the head.

Liebrecht had been in the Marine Corps 12 years and was on special duty at headquarters in Washington.

PASTOR SUELED ON $5000 NOTE
GIVEN FOR "BURIED TREASURE"

Bought New Jersey Tract Supposed to Contain $2,000,000 in Gold and Jewelry.

By the Associated Press.
PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 6.—Frederick Loehrs, pastor of the congregation for the enlightenment of soul and spirit, probably will never again give his note for $5000 toward purchase of buried treasure on a New Jersey farm. He testified in court here yesterday that he had been "inveigled into" giving his note for an Oakland tract after he had been "interested in a dream in which a negro woman appeared and explained that more than $2,000,000 worth of jewelry and gold lay buried" there.

Loehrs took the witness stand in a suit brought against him by Daniel Balsinger, who sought to recover on the clergyman's note. He testified that Balsinger was the man who had the dream and told it to him.

Loehrs, Mrs. Sophia Sautter, treasurer of the congregation, and Mrs.
Marie Blumer, secretary, co-defendants with the pastor, all dug on the treasure farm, Loehrs said, without finding even a stickpin.

Balsinger "gave every indication that he intended to dig for the hidden treasure himself," Loehrs said, but the negro woman reappeared in a later dream and her description of the fabled digger and owner fitted Loehrs so well that Balsinger decided to sell to him.

Fair Price Commission to Discuss
Shoes, Clothing, Eggs and Sugar
Tomorrow Night.

The St. Louis Fair Price Commission at its meeting last night in the Circuit Attorney's office fixed the following maximum prices for bacon to consumers purchasing less than half a side at one time.

Standard Bacon.

Per lb.

6@ 8 pound average.....47c
8@10 pound average.....44c
10@12 pound average.....40c
12@14 pound average.....36c

Fancy Bacon.

Per lb.

6@ 6 pound average.....54c
8@ 8 pound average.....50c
8@10 pound average.....50c

It was specified that no extra charge should be made for slicing, but that whole or half sides of bacon must be sold at 2 cents a pound less than the price fixed for smaller quantities.

At the request of Circuit Attorney
McDaniel the commission assumed jurisdiction in St. Louis County as well as in the city. Prices in the city except that country dealers will be permitted to add the additional cost of freight and drayage.

The prices of shoes, clothing, eggs and sugar will be discussed at tomorrow night's meeting.

Made by a New, Exclusive Process
Up to the time of our discovery, Nut Margarine was made by the same process used in making Oleomargarine (from animal fats). This process was so un dependable, we decided it was not good enough for us and set about developing a new process. We were successful. We called our new discovery "The Ashby Process."

GOODY is made of such pure ingredients by such a skilful, cleanly process that it does not need to be preserved.

No Animal Fats

GOODY contains nothing but the white meat of the coconut, peanut oil, pasteurized milk and butter salt. Can you imagine a more appetizing food?

You can depend upon GOODY—it is always good when kept as butter ought to be kept.
It "spreads" like butter, and is more economical and satisfactory than other nut butters.

GOODY is Guaranteed

Food prices are high—people cannot afford to experiment—so, for your protection we guarantee GOODY—

Best—Or Your Money Back!

"Buy a pound package of GOODY from your dealer. Serve it on the table. Use it in your cooking. Try it in your own home. If you do not like GOODY as well as the cleanest creamery butter you ever ate, your money will be refunded without a word."

Remember—Cash Prize for the best idea—a pound of GOODY Free if your idea does not win a cash prize.

Through the Widow's Lorgnette

By HELEN ROWLAND.

Getting What You Want, in Life.

DOESN'T being out on a day like this make you feel like a god or goddess, or a wizard, or a King?" exclaimed the Bachelor, stretching luxuriously, as he led the way from the motor car to the path of the widow. "Just the sort of day as though you could have, or be, or do anything in the world you wanted!"

"Ted can," announced the Widow, authoritatively, as she snuggled her all-glove hands down into her spacious pockets. "Ted can do anything he wants. He's a Newfoundlander, so like a Newfoundlander regarding the cute little tricks of a kitten. 'Are you going to grant three wishes, Dame Fairy—if I cross your palm with silver?'"

"Just that just like a man!" The Widow shook her bright head impatiently. "Give him a grain of hope, and he'll raise a whole crop of expectations. I offered you ONE wish, Mr. Cutting. You can have any one thing that you want most on earth—and what's more, you HAVE it, ready!"

"What?" The Bachelor gazed at her in astonishment, not unmixed with apprehension. "You don't mean to say that I've got—that you've decided that you are proposing marriage to me?" he finished bluntness.

"Not this afternoon," answered the Widow with frigid sweetness. "You wanted most in the world was a wife, you'd have had at least one, ages ago! You only THINK you want to marry. What I really want most is the chance to go about telling everybody how easily you are, and pitying yourself, and 'thinking about' marriage—in abstract. There is nothing quite so intriguing to a man as flirting with the IDEA of marriage—with his fingers crossed."

"I know what I want!" declared the Bachelor doggedly.

"No, you don't," retorted the Widow. "Nobody knows what he really wants. Yet everybody gets what he wants most—and then goes through life feeling cheated and disappointed, because he thinks he wants something else."

"Oh, and the Bachelor brightened perceptibly. "Then, if a man thinks he wants one woman, he really wants another!"

"Usually—several others," smiled the Widow. "But that isn't an ideal situation. There are lots and lots of lonely bachelors who think they want a home, and a helpmate, and somebody to love them, and all that; but what they really want far more is expensive cigars, and a first-class car, and a motor car, and plenty of small change to tip the waiter with, and all their own pet, little comforts and self-indulgences. So, they go on sighing pathetically that they 'can't afford' to marry—and some are almost believing it."

"Yes, and many a bright young thing thinks she wants a husband," said the Bachelor, flicking the leaves of a maple twig, "but she really wants, far more, is the center-of-the-stage, and a chance to be a star, and to pose as a man-charger, or a siren, or a wit!"

"And so she goes right on being clever, or cynical, or capricious," retorted the Widow sympathetically, "and treading rough-shod all over a man's vanity, and sentiments, and aplomb!"

"And then wonders why nobody loves her—enough to offer to set himself up as a life-target for her!" finished the Bachelor, with supreme scorn.

"That's just what I mean," declared the Widow. "And it's the same with many a well-intentioned husband and wife. She thinks that she wants, above all else in the world, is her husband's love and devotion."

"But what she really wants is his abject submission," and the Bachelor shuddered.

"Or, perhaps, her own way," suggested the Widow.

"Or a pet that she can keep on a leash."

"Or her own comfort, or independence, or individuality."

"Or an echo, that will cry, 'Hear, hear!' to everything she says, or a jack-in-the-box, on which she can shut down the lid at any moment."

"Exactly," the Widow hastened to interrupt. "And the husband thinks that what he wants, above all else in the world, is his wife's affection. But what he really wants, far more, is a chance to show his authority, and nurse his grouches, and work off his moods."

"A doorman, to walk on," suggested the Bachelor.

"Or a valet, or a parlor ornament, or a sofa cushion."

"Or a chorus, to stand around and sing his praises, while he struts in the limelight."

"And that's just what he GETS," finished the Widow, with conviction. "It's the same with fame. A girl thinks she wants to be a star, and she sits down at her desk, and she really wants to do, which is to amuse herself."

"Just like a chap I know," chimed in the Bachelor, "who thinks he wants to be a money magnate, and sits around all day working up get-rich-quick schemes and telling people about them, instead of getting a job and working AT it."

"But he gets what he really wants!" insisted the Widow, "which is an excuse to loiter around and talk about himself. EVERYBODY gets what he really wants, in this old world, and it would be all right, if all of us really knew it, and would accept what we get, and be contented with it. But everybody goes through life miserably, thinking he has missed the thing he wants—because he doesn't happen to be willing to pay the price for it!"

"That's the point!" exclaimed the Bachelor. "It's the BILL, at which we kick. The PRICE of the things we think we want is always so deucedly high!"

"Yes," said the Widow, looking up at him innocently. "The price of matrimony, for instance, is—your FREEDOM."

"And the price of single blessedness is loneliness," gloomed the Bachelor.

"And the price of money, or fame, or success, is hard labor."

"And the price of art is poverty and self-immolation."

"And the price of love—why, love is the most expensive thing in the world!" sighed the Widow. "It costs you everything, from your sleep to your beauty and your peace of mind, and your independence, and your personal comfort—and sometimes, your soul!"

"And the price increases, as you go on through life!" groaned the Bachelor. "If we could only pay it all in spot cash! But it's the interminable daily installments that wear us so!"

"And yet you talk to me about wanting to marry!" said the Widow reproachfully.

"Well, isn't that what I really want?"

"What?"

"To TALK about wanting to marry," the Bachelor explained hastily. "But what I THINK I want most of anything in the world, at this minute, is—"

"The Bachelor hesitated and looked down at the Widow doubtfully."

"Yes!" inquired the Widow, tilting her chin, and returning his gaze with icy smiles of challenge.

"What I think I want," he repeated lamely, forcing himself to turn his eyes away from her lips. "Is luncheon!"

"Oh!"

"And, for some reason, as they turned their steps toward the club-house veranda, the Widow looked almost disappointed."

MRS. MOUSE'S NEW HAT.

MRS. MOUSE had not been married very long, and Teddy Mouse, her husband, gave her everything she asked for, but when one day Mrs. Mouse said she just must have a new yellow feather for her coron hat, poor Mr. Mouse was in despair.

"I'll have a nice bit of blue velvet you brought me from the ragbag," said Mrs. Mouse, "and the coron hat and nothing but a yellow feather will go with it, so you just must find one, Teddy dear."

Poor Mr. Mouse ran out of his house in the pantry that night and brought back the biggest piece of cheese he could find, but Mrs. Mouse only pushed it aside and asked:

"The yellow feather—where is that?"

The next night Mr. Mouse found a bit of a feather duster, and home he went with a light heart, for, after all, what did it matter about the color, he thought; it was a feather.

But he soon found it did matter, and very much so. Mrs. Mouse began to cry and say he no longer loved her or he would have brought home a yellow feather, so poor Teddy Mouse told her to dry her eyes, and the next night he would bring home the feather she so much wanted.

He did not wait for it to be dark but as soon as it was quiet the next day in the kitchen out of his door ran Mr. Mouse and through the kitchen into the yard.

Puss was asleep in the doorway, but Mr. Mouse knew he might as well risk death as go back without the yellow feather.

All around the yard he ran; there were feathers aplenty—white, black, gray and even one from the gorgeous tail of Mr. Rooster—but not a yellow feather could he find.

After running many dangers and being very tired Mr. Mouse decided he would go back to the house and look in the rag bag, where he had found so many beautiful things for his home.

Puss, however, was not asleep when he got to the door, but sat looking into the kitchen. Quick as a flash Mr. Mouse ran past her, but she saw him and headed him off from the pantry door.

Around the room he went, and after him went Puss. Through a door that was open dashed Mr. Mouse. Puss after him, but he was too quick for her, and behind a bookcase he hid out of reach.

"You had Puss, you know you are not allowed in here where the bird is," and feeling sure he was safe, Mr. Mouse peeked out in time to see Puss being chased out of the room by her mistress.

By and by it was all still and Mr. Mouse ran around the room and there right on the floor in front of a window close to the wall lay two beautiful little yellow feathers which

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

AN efficient male flirt is the man who put the "con" in concentration. No woman is so good as to escape a slight irritation at the thought that all her friends consider their husbands perfectly safe with her. Scratch a cynic and you scratch a romanticist.

When they asked the diplomat why he married a second time he quipped, "The triumph of hope over experience," then added urbanely, "Hope is fulfilled."

Somebody ought to give us a five-foot shelf of the books a girl can feel safe in recommending to her mother.

A woman's man is one part knave, one part small boy, one part worshipping devotee.

Drawing blood from a stone is a process of childlike simplicity compared with coaxing a compliment from one's husband.

For one man who suffers under "the tyranny of tears" there are 10 bound by the slavery of smiles—and they hug their chains.

had fallen from the canary cage just over his head.

Of course, Mr. Mouse did not know where they came from; he did not know he picked them up and off he ran for home.

The next time he went walking with Mrs. Mouse all the other mice looked with envy at pretty Mrs. Mouse and her hat with the yellow feathers.

The Birth Number.

ACCORDING to all men who believe in the science of numerology, or the influence of numbers on our lives, the most important number to be determined is the birth number. This number is the record of all we have learned in the past reincarnations. It shows with what previous learning we are coming into the world.

The birth number is obtained by reducing all the compound numbers of the day, month and year of birth to simple numbers by adding the digits of the compound numbers, as follows:

Date of birth, Oct. 15, 1897.

October the tenth month—10 equals 1 plus 0 equals 1

Eighteenth day—18 equals 1 plus 8 equals 9

1897—1 plus 8 plus 9 plus 7 equals 25, which equals 2 plus 5, or 7

Or 1 plus 7 equals 8.

Thus, when we have determined our passport into this life or what we have already made of ourselves, we can use that number to guide us in this life.

One is a number of ruling, directing, inventing and planning. It represents the "dare-devil" spirit. It is apt to be self-centered and seldom recognizes anything beyond its own limited vision.

Two is an ideal number for mothers, doctors, nurses, diplomats, etc. It is a number of sympathy and affection. It is as influential as number one, but its influence is gentle, helpful and calm rather than petulant.

Three influences oratory, singing, writing and painting. Its characteristics are mirth, good cheer and a fondness for pleasure.

Four is a number given to analysis and discussion. Its creations are forceful but crude. It is a number of possession and accumulation.

Five tends towards nervousness and tempestuousness. The person possessing this number always lives in a state of uncertainty. It is a social number, bestowing upon its holder the art of entertainment and personal attractiveness.

Six is a number of marriage. It signifies conservatism, repose and comfort. It bestows confidence and trust.

Seven is a number of the stoic, the mystic and the religionist. It is not a number that seeks glory, but is self-sufficient.

Eight is the number of business and analysis. It tends toward intellectuality. It is a good number for the scientist, business man, executive and technical musician.

Nine stands for integrity and virtue. It is an especially helpful influence for the actor, singer and speaker. It is the number of expression.

The Curious Quest

By E. Phillips Oppenheim.

CHAPTER XIV (Continued).

"So you are a chauffeur now?" she exclaimed, suddenly leaning forward as the waiter brought their next course. "I'm afraid you are a very rolling stone—a commercial traveler, light porter to that shocking old gentleman, Mr. Cockerill—what else have you been, I wonder?"

"Green grocer's assistant," he answered promptly. "Jolly well I was doing at it, too, if only the man whose place I was taking hadn't turned up unexpectedly."

She sighed.

"It seems to me that you are a very unpractical person!"

"Up to now," he admitted, "perhaps that is true. From this moment, however, I'm going to turn over a new leaf."

"A young man of education," she said severely, "should be doing something better than occupying the position of a chauffeur at 30 shillings a week."

"With tips," he reminded her hopefully. "I've made 6 shillings in tips already this week."

"I don't consider," she declared, "that tips are dignified."

He was crestfallen for a moment.

"Quite a recognized thing in our profession," he assured her. "Kind of thank-offering from your passengers. I think, for having reached the end of their journey safely."

She laughed softly. Without any spoken word between them, they seemed to have drifted into a closer intimacy and understanding.

"I want you," she said presently, "to tell me truthfully why, after you had done that splendid stroke of business for Mr. Masters, you refused to stay on with him. You could have had any post you liked and—and," she added disconsolately, "everything would have been so different."

He leaned a little closer toward her.

"I will tell you the truth. I borrowed the money to carry out that coup from the greatest enemy I have in life, and his one proviso was that I should not benefit from it in any shape myself."

"You borrowed it from your greatest enemy?" she repeated. "Why on earth did he lend it to you?"

"He was under certain obligations to me," Bliss declared, "which he could not evade. I can assure you that the £500 was no more to him than a snap of the fingers. He could have given it as a tip to a waiter and never missed it."

"Sometimes," she said, looking steadfastly into his eyes, "I think you are a little mad."

"Generally," he replied, "I am sure of it. Tonight, for instance, here in this wretched little eating house, with a few shillings in my pocket, nothing in the bank, and not a spare suit of clothes to my name, I feel as though Paradise were close at hand—What's that?"

He turned sharply around. A young man in soiled overalls had approached their table unseen. He leaned over and made his announcement in a hoarse but confidential whisper.

"Guv'nor's very sorry, but two of the chaps are away ill, and George has had to take a car up to York-shire. He wants you for an order that's just come in."

"I'll be there in five minutes," he promised.

"The man departed with a grin which was meant to be sympathetic. 'I'll have to go,' Bliss grumbled. 'It's my evening off, but they don't take any notice of that.'"

"Of course you must go," she agreed, drawing on her gloves.

"For one moment, please," he begged, "sit where you are. I want to look at you."

The man who had been playing on the mandolin had gone, but another of a company of musicians had drawn a violin from its case and was making soft music at the other end of the room.

"The place was full. The odor of many dinners hung heavily upon the smoke-laden air. It was in this setting that Bliss looked for the first time appraisingly upon the woman who had taught him a new emotion. Her dark gray, ready-made costume was cut on prim lines and fitted her very moderately well, but the grace of her young figure triumphed over its imperfections. Her neck was soft and white; a stray wisp of hair had escaped from the thickly braided coils. She was a little pale, perhaps, but her courageous mouth seemed to defy the suggestion of ill health. Her eyes were very soft and sweet. Even as she turned and met his searching gaze, little lines spread from them and she laughed.

"How dare you look at me like that?" she protested.

"One moment longer," he pleaded. His eyes rested on her hat—a plain black felt with a drooping brim, decorated with a rather tired-looking little bunch of violets. He glanced down at her many (times mended) gloves, which she had just succeeded in buttoning. He even looked at the thick boots, one of which was shamelessly patched. Her lips were parted now. Miss Maude Linden would have envied her her teeth.

"I won't sit here for another moment," she declared, rising.

He followed her example, rewarding the waiter with a shabby tip, although he was conscious of the rank extravagance of the action.

"Forgive me," he begged. "I just wanted a little mind picture of you, something that couldn't easily be displaced."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

When grandpa's health got rather bad
And every diagnosis
The doctors made, disclosed he had Arteriosclerosis.
That he might lustily withstand
The ills that so gently tried him,
We bought an interstitial gland
And planted it inside him.

A week or two beside his bed
We watched him, breathing tensely,
"Alas," said we, "the old man's dead!"
But soon he gained immensely.
And then we cried, "He'll recognize
The credit that is due us,
For curing him, and when he dies
He'll leave his fortune to us."

But in a year his hair turned brown,
A snappy vest he sported
And dined in restaurants downtown
Where gilded youth resorted.
He drove his speedster on the hop,
All traffic laws unheeding,
And frequently he'd lick a cop
Who stood him up for speeding.

We always thought another year
Would see him dead and buried,
But now he's planning a career,
And talks of getting married.
And we, who fancied that we'd played
A trick extremely clever,
Are getting frightfully afraid
That he will live forever.

EASY COME, EASY GO.
Daylight saving has gone, and nobody has put away any of it for a rainy day.

BUT, UNHAPPILY, YOU CAN'T.
If you could only unscramble eggs,
German opera would prosper in spite of disaffection in the audience.

NOW, IF EVER.

pretty soon he will have time to destroy all the evidence against him.
